Dear Dr. Koba:

My article in "Modern Medicine" on February 15, 1976 has a typographical error. The article should state that "on July 15, 1975 before the 11th International Congress of Chemotherapy, London."

The article states June 15th and this is a typographical error. The word before means "presented in front of" it does not mean that there was a previous paper presented on the subject.

I hope this will explain the matter sufficiently for your patent office.

Very sincerely yours,

Robert Bingham, M.D.
