Dear Mr. Chapdelaine,

Happy New Year!

A letter I received from Dr. Paul Pybus this morning reminded me that I had not acknowledged your letter of November 21, 1983, and the enclosed booklet. A possible excuse is that I went out of town right after Thanksgiving for a couple of weeks and the holiday season followed.

I am happy to know that Dr. Pybus has arranged for me to receive specimens of joint fluid from Drs. Wallcot and Prosch. As soon as I have received the samples, I will go to work and see what I can do. I have a few good friends who have studied Acanthamoeba and I can get their help if needed.

It was indeed good to see you and your son and I hope that our relationship will develop into a mutually beneficial one.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
