

27 July 1987

Professor Richard Franson, Ph D
Professor of Biochemistry
Department of Biochemistry
P O Box 614
RICHMOND
Virginia 23298-0001

Dear Dick,

Thank you very much for your letter of July 12th. Your progress with research in PLA2 is very impressive. It sounds very powerful stuff. I was particularly interested in the endogenous anti-inflammatory component and would like to know something of the composition of these. According to Brian Susskind, clotrimazole is not only anti-inflammatory but also immuno-suppressive.

We will certainly send out another appeal for drug specimens on the Herxheimer reaction and I am impressing on Ferry Chapdeleine the importance of this, together with the continuation of your work.

I am pleased to hear you are in good health. I must say I had no idea that you had a kidney transplant and am pleased this is going well. I myself, am enjoying very much better health.

Kind regards,

Sincerely,

Paul K Pybus

PKP/ecks